TECHNOLOGY OVER THE LIFE OF A MATTER

Matters can originate from internal clients or the legal department and are directed externally if required. For internal matters there are a number of legal technology platforms to automate and streamline this aspect of legal operations. At the other end of the lifecyle, billing data is not enough - better management of scope and pricing throughout the life of a matter will deliver best results. Lawcadia's Platform is designed to cater for all external matters and supports the full spectrum from matter creation right through to completion and invoicing.
